

I WILL RESTORE

So I will restore to you the years that the swarming locust has eaten,
The crawling locust,
The consuming locust,
And the chewing locust,^[e]
My great army which I sent among you.
²⁶ You shall eat in plenty and be satisfied,
And praise the name of the LORD your God,
Who has dealt wondrously with you;
And My people shall never be put to shame.
²⁷ Then you shall know that I am in the midst of Israel:
I am the LORD your God
And there is no other.
My people shall never be put to shame.

Joel 2 : 25-27

The Promise of God is so refreshing like rain on a parched day.

Many of us may lament for the days lost in our lives. Yet the Lord promises that He will restore all that was lost.

May be you have lost yourself in the labyrinths of sin and skepticism, yet the Lord promises He will restore you

May be you lament the loss of your youth and vigour bemoaning your inability to run for the Lord. Yet the Lord promises He will restore your health so you can run for the Kingdom.

May be you have lost a loved one, lost something precious. Yet the Lord promises He will restore you. He will restore your broken torn heart. He will restore the joy that was ripped away from your heart.

May be you feel there is no sense of purpose in your life. Yet the Lord promises He will restore you and renew His purpose for you.

May be you hurt within because of all the humiliations of the past, humiliations of poverty, homelessness. Yet the Lord promises He will restore you. He will open heaven's doors and He will set you in a family.

May be you mourn the rejections of your life, the betrayals and the torments. Yet the Lord promises He will restore relationships, restore hope in your heart and restore peace in your life.

May be you mourn the loss of love in your life. May be your beloved has gone away roaming. Yet the Lord promises He will restore the loss of love in your life. He is the Love of all loves. His Love will restore all the love lost in your life.

Take hold of the Promise of Restoration. This is for you. This is God's gift for you. Believe it, receive it, take it.

He has promised and He will do it. He promises that His people will never be ashamed. Yes the shame, humiliation is wiped away and the night of mourning will be replaced with morning of joy.

This is the heritage of all who would put their trust and faith on the Lord Jesus Christ who is the only Way, Truth and Life.

Hallelujah! Our God reigns.
